

More masts, smaller regions — physics helps at every count

